WHO SHOULD ATTEND

HPCSA Registered psychologists, psychometrists, counsellors, teachers, and parents interested in child development.

OVERVIEW:

All who work with children envision a bright future for those in their care. Positive achievements as adults are a direct reflection of the self-images created in childhood. Psychological type awareness provides a framework for understanding the way children's personalities develop, and gives both adults and children a foundation for accepting differences and developing healthy behaviors.

All successful leaders have one thing in common – self-awareness. These leaders know both their strengths and those characteristics that require flexing and stretching. Using type to help children discover their strengths and stretches at a young age gives them an edge in that lifelong quest for self-knowledge. As children explore and gain mastery of their world they discover who they are and who they are not. Adults who can guide the development of the child's personality can provide that child with a distinct advantage in the world.

This workshop explores ways parents and teachers can work with children from infancy through adolescence to provide an environment that stimulates development rather than stifle it. Specific strategies and skills are shared so even a novice to type will leave with tools for enriching development in young people. Helping children become all they can be means becoming all we can be as parents and educators. Personality type is a tool to help in that process.

DISCLAIMER: Presenters and attendees of all CPD activities must please note that the attainment of continuing education units (CEUs) does not licence any professional to practice outside their official scope of practice. CEUs are intended to broaden the knowledge of professionals but do not constitute professional training. Professionals should be registered with the HPCSA to perform any psychological act.

PRESENTER:

Elizabeth Murphy, Ed.D., is a licensed school psychologist who works with children from preschool through adolescence. As an internationally recognized educational authority she conducts training sessions on students' individual differences throughout the United States as well as in Canada, Singapore, Australia, New Zealand, and Malaysia. She is co-author of the Murphy-Meisgeier Type Indicator for Children® (MMTIC®) assessment, and she is a renowned figure in the world of psychological type theory. One of her goals is to teach adults and children about using personality type as a tool for improving communication in the home and school setting.

BONUS!

The first 50 registrations will receive the following two books for FREE. All attendees who meet the qualifying criteria of the MMTIC® Certification Programme will receive the training discount.

The Chemistry of Personality (valued at $15)

A Guide to Teacher-Student Interaction in the Classroom by Elizabeth Murphy

Every student learns differently. The Chemistry of Personality is every teacher's invaluable guide to a powerful and simple method of understanding such diversity, exploring a positive approach to personality differences with their students, and using effective teaching methods that reach and engage every young mind.

Exploring Personality Type (valued at $6)

Creating a Personal Path for Success by Elizabeth Murphy

Written for high school students, this is a book about the unique ways they like to learn, think, and act as they go through life. Exploring Personality Type: Creating a Personal Path for Success can be used to help students better understand their MMTIC® results both in the classroom and at home.

MMTIC® Certification Programme

This workshop serves as an introduction to the Murphy-Meisgeier Type Indicator for Children® (MMTIC®) assessment and the MMTIC® Certification Programme; which prepares adults to begin using the assessment with young people. Workshop delegates, who meet the qualifying criteria to complete the online certification, will receive a 20% discount on the certification fee)

**Qualifying criteria - Four year degree*
